

HISTORY of AFTERNOON TEA

Tea consumption increased dramatically during the early nineteenth century and it is around this time that Anna, the 7th Duchess of Bedford, is said to have complained of 'having that sinking feeling' during the late afternoon. At the time it was usual for people to take only two main meals a day: breakfast in the morning and dinner at around 8 o'clock in the evening. The solution for the Duchess was a pot of tea and a light snack, taken privately in her boudoir during the afternoon.

Later, friends were invited to join her in her rooms at Woburn Abbey. This summer practice proved so popular that the Duchess continued it when she returned to London, sending cards to her friends asking them to join her for 'tea and a walk in the fields'. Other social hostesses quickly picked up on the idea and the practice became respectable enough to move it into the drawing room.

Before long, all fashionable society was sipping tea and nibbling sandwiches in the middle of the afternoon.

Many visitors from overseas still imagine that we are a nation where, in the words of the well-known song, 'at half past three, everything stops for tea'. Sadly, these days, Afternoon Tea is usually only an occasional luxury for the British; a birthday treat in a country house hotel, or a welcome break from a hectic day shopping 'in town'. Luckily the tourist is still able to indulge in a little bit of British tradition for themselves.

CLASSIC & BLACK TEA

The Grand Blend

The smooth blend of carefully selected Assam and Ceylon teas produces a strong, smooth tea that is refreshing at any time of day.

Afternoon Darjeeling

Fragrant tea from the gardens in the Himalayas. A cool misty climate and rich soil give it a subtle muscatel flavour.

English Breakfast

A special blend of teas from India and Africa. Full-bodied, rich and refreshing, with a bright inviting colour.

Earl Grey

Fine black tea with fragrance of Bergamot. This elegant tea was first invented as a Mandarin's gift to the second Earl Grey in the 1880s.

Lapsang Souchong

Unusual smoky flavour. Plucked leaves are withered in baskets over smoking wood. Perfect with spicy, salty or smoked foods.

Pure Assam

Finest Assam tea grown in the Brahmaputra Valley, North East India. Rich flavour with a distinctive malty taste.

Pure Ceylon

Mellow, golden tea with an aromatic bouquet. Slow-growing tea from the highlands of the Dimbula region.

Our tea collection has been carefully selected using only the finest teas sourced by Taylors of Harrogate.

INFUSIONS (t e a b a g s)

Peppermint Tisane

Finest, purest, mintiest peppermint leaves, bursting with flavour and rich in essential oils, then gently dried to make a delightful refreshing tasty infusion. Peppermint is traditionally used to help aid digestion and clear your head.

Lemon & Ginger

The fragrant zing of lemon and the deep warmth of spicy ginger root are a perfect pair. It makes a deliciously invigorating infusion.

Organic Chamomile

A soothing infusion of pure chamomile. Chamomile is traditionally used to help you relax and aid a good night's sleep.

GREEN TEAS

Gun Powder

A green China Tea made from tightly rolled young leaves. It has its own distinct, strong taste with a smoky flavour and an aftertaste that is slightly coppery.

Jasmine

A flowery orange pekoe leaf is mixed with freshly opened jasmine flowers leaving a light and sweet flavour with a subtle perfume.

Our tea collection has been carefully selected using only the finest teas sourced by Taylors of Harrogate.
